

A broken heart

Shattered, the crying goes on
Several hours later the victim was gone

A broken heart can not be mended
All your feelings have been suspended

Cold and lonely a scared heart leads you astray
He dances with your feeling as if in a ballet

For what you called love
Was just a mourning dove

Crying days in end
More than your mind could apprehend

Sleep for hours
His rage overpowers

A broken heart is all that's left behind
Most painful experience in mankind